A Day of Remembrance

BY DOUG STOUT, VETERANS PROJECT COORDINATOR

Memorial Day is celebrated all over the United States with parades, visiting cemeteries, and spending time with family. The day originated soon after the Civil War and was called Decoration Day. It was a day chosen to remember and decorate the graves of those who died during the war. The remembrance day gradually became known as Memorial Day, as our nation became involved in other wars and conflicts. In 1968, Congress passed the Uniform Monday Holiday Act, which established Memorial Day as the last Monday in May, creating a three-day weekend for federal employees; the law went into effect in 1971. That same law made Memorial Day a federal holiday.

Since the Civil War, over 900 Licking County service members have died during a war or conflict in which the United States has been involved. These men and women are sons and daughters, husbands and wives and fathers and mothers. They were artists, factory workers, lawyers and salesmen. They were our neighbors and our friends.

Their remains rest in our local cemeteries and in our national cemeteries, both home and abroad. Some are lost at sea or are still unaccounted for—but their memories remain.

In 1967, Danny Crothers enlisted in the Marine Corp to support his county in the Vietnam War. Just eight short months after he arrived in Vietnam, he was killed in action. His family shared a letter that he wrote during his tour. He mentioned in the letter that he wanted to “tell it like it really is to the folks back home.” It reads:

Lance Corporal Danny K. Crothers, US Marine Corps

*“You folks read all the papers and watch the TV shows, but even with all that, not one of you really knows.
You hear the good side of our battles, the enemies we kill; you have never seen a buddy killed while charging up a hill.*

At home, you walk down sidewalks or in a crowded mall, here the brush is our jungle trails, so thick we have to crawl.

*Back stateside, you have bridges to cross a river, here in Nam we walk right in and when it’s cold we shiver.
You have air conditioners there, to cool your shops or dens, but over here it’s so damn hot we think its hell were in.*

At home, you take your wife or girl, go out and dance all night; over here we stand our guard, sometimes even stiff with fright.

Have you ever looked around and seen the many things you have, or once stopped to think about the many things you got.

You have cold beer and water, you have hot meals to eat, any one of those to us, would be a treat.

Every day you take a walk down life’s path, but I will bet you never gone a month without a bath.

To you a bath is water, hot enough to make it steam, to us it is nothing more than a leech-infested stream.

You have no doubt been scared enough to think the end is near, but I’ll bet you’ve not lived a whole year in fear.

You folks have it easy compared to us across the sea, all any soldier asks of you is ‘please remember me.’”

This Memorial Day, let us honor our fallen, including Lance Corporal Danny K. Crothers. After all, all they ask is to be remembered.
