Adventure at Every Turn!

The Board of Trustees and staff at Licking County Library are thrilled to announce that we are getting a new vehicle, set to arrive in mid-2023. We know our community has greatly missed our bookmobile since its retirement in 2020 and we are excited to continue our long history of serving our community beyond our physical walls.

Following the trend amongst libraries, we are calling it a “Mobile Library” because it is so much more than books. It features all formats and genres of materials but it can also be used as a mobile wi-fi hotspot. We can even use this vehicle at community events and offer exciting programming. Essentially, anything you can get at a branch, you’ll be able to access via the Mobile Library...including our informative staff.

We eagerly look forward to meeting our community where you are—on rural roads, at busy schools, lively daycares, and in neighborhoods that are both emerging and underserved. We will continue to provide updates as our new Mobile Library “rolls” in, and we look forward to sharing more information with you in the coming months.

Ohio State is indeed more than a "football factory," yet OSU football holds much significance. Learn about the history of the shoe" and the evolution of its football program.

Silent Film Comedy • February 3 • 11am - 1pm

A distinct brand of comedy was created during the silent film era. Dr. Lisa Stein Haven, Professor of English, delves into the lives and careers of six of the most popular silent film comedians: Max Linder, Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, Mabel Normand, Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd and Buster Keaton.

Writing from Fairy Tale and Myth •

February 7 • 1 - 3pm

Author and professor, Bonnie Proudfoot leads a writing workshop inspired by fairy tales and myths. Even though Homer tells the story of the siege of Troy in the Iliad, and the return of Odysseus in the Odyssey, he continually refers to myth and legend in his poetry, using myth to enhance his characterizations. We use myth and fairy tales every day, even when we call something 'a real Cinderella story.' Through poetry, we can rely upon archetypal characters from myth or fairy tales, or even reinvent characters, enhance their attributes, or defy the stereotypes they evoke. This workshop looks at examples of writing from poets like Auden, Ann Sexton, Sara Moore Wagner, Joy Harjo and others, and explores ways to bring themes from myth and fairy tales into our own writing.

Watergate: 50 Years Later • February 14 • 1 - 3pm

Fifty years ago, police arrested five burglars in the Democratic National Committee headquarters located in the Watergate Office Building. They were associated with the campaign to reelect President Richard Nixon. What followed was a political, legal and constitutional crisis. What have we learned about the Watergate Scandal in the past five decades? Why did Nixon choose to resign and what were the lasting consequences?

Exploring Your iPhone • February 15 • 2 - 3pm

Did you receive a new iPhone for the holidays, or do you just want to learn how to get more out of your current one? Learn all about the latest news on the iPhone operating system, settings and other tips and tricks. This class is taught by our Techsperts, supported in part by the Institute of Museum and Library Services and the State Library of Ohio.

History of Childhood • February 17 • 1 - 2:30pm

What is childhood? Does childhood have a history? Dr. Elizabeth Dillenburg explores these questions and more. A focus on children and young people brings a unique perspective to history and can challenge traditional assumptions about what counts as "history" and about who "makes history." Using a variety of sources, including art and literature, we examine changing representations and conceptions of childhood and also consider how historical perspectives about childhood can provide new insights into contemporary debates and understandings about children.

Healthy Sleep Habits • February 21 • 11am - 12pm

Quality sleep is important for good health. Dr. Donald Fairbanks discusses healthy sleep habits and answers questions.
